Senators Seek Safeguards In Pact Arms Bill

Seek To Prevent Transfer Of Arms Beyond America's Own Safety Point

DEMAND 'LID' ON SURPLUS TRANSFER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(INS)—A group of Senators today demanded safeguards in the "arms for friends" bill to prevent the transfer of war weapons beyond America's own "safety point."

They are prepared to grill Defense Secretary Johnson in this connection. Johnson is expected to urge quick approval of the one billion, 450 million dollar proposal at today's hearing before the Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees.

Sen. Russell (D) Ga., declared that "as the bill now stands there is nothing to prevent the assignment of as many as two battleships, 20 destroyers and four of our greatest aircraft carriers to other nations."

Sen. Knowland (R) Calif., said the administration could, if it chose to do so, declare "surplus" as much as three billion dollars worth of war weapons and ship them to North Atlantic Pact countries.

In the House, the Foreign Affairs Committee will meet in closed session to start going over the arms measure preparatory to a vote.

May Be Reported Wednesday
Chairman Kee (D) W. Va., said it is possible but not probable that the bill will be reported out late Wednesday. Others suggested a vote may be reached Thursday.

Joining in Senate demands for a "lid" on the amount of war surplus that could be transferred to other countries are Sens. George (D) Ga., Johnson (D) Tex., Saltonstall (R) Mass., Lodge (R) Mass., and Gurnea (R) S. D.

All are members of committees which will hear the defense secretary. Johnson, in secret testimony, is

PA NEW OBSERVES
Examination of some of the trees at Cascade Park by Chris Coulthard, superintendent, reveals that one or two others of the aged trees will have to be taken down for safety purposes. The storm of almost two weeks ago brought down some of the older trees. Workmen of the Pennsylvania Power company are engaged today in trimming many of the trees to add to the beauty of the park.

Workmen removed on Monday the last of the old light standards which stood on East Washington street between Croton avenue and County Line street. The old lights have all been replaced with modern lights high above the street which add much to the illumination of that district.

Residents of the Croton section will welcome the removal of the detour on Route 19 which diverted much heavy traffic over that section of the city. In order to get across the street it was necessary at times to wait several minutes before the trip could be made. The detour is to be lifted at noon on Wednesday.

Kiddies Day attracted a large throng of youngsters to Cascade Park again on Monday. Most of the boys and girls were to be found "cooling off" in the park pool. Other facilities of the park were enjoying a fair amount of business from the kiddies.

Residents of this district were experiencing somewhat cooler weather a year ago than they are enjoying at the present time. The overnight temperature dropped to a cool 53 a year ago while last night sleepers tried to get some rest while the thermometer stood at 75 degrees. The heat has once again sent numerous sleepers to the porch.

Two Presidents Inspect Honor Guard At Washington

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Truman (left) and President Elpidio Quirino of the Philippine Republic inspect the honor guard after the latter arrived at National airport Monday for a brief visit. Included in the group of officers behind the presidents are President Truman's military aides, Maj. General Harry H. Vaughn, Brig. General Robert B. Landry, Rear Admiral Robert L. Dennison.

Other Nations Rushing Aid To Quake-Stricken Country Of Ecuador

By B. T. TRAUBNER
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

QUITO, Aug. 9.—Ecuador's sister republics, led by the U. S., opened their hearts and purses today and poured aid into the quake-stricken country, where an estimated 4,000 to 7,000 persons are believed dead.

Government ministers returning from the devastated central portion of the Republic said it was impossible to give precise casualty figures. A Quito broadcast said that 20,000 were injured in the series of weekend tremors, while 220,000 were rendered homeless in the rich industrial and agricultural heartland.

Danger Of Epidemics
The danger of epidemics in the stricken areas arose when thousands of corpses were left unattended. Hospitals, morgues and other public buildings in Quito and Guayaquil were crammed with dead, dying and injured, and refugees, dazed by the holocaust, poured into both major cities.

Planes from Cuba and Argentine continued a mercy airlift, pouring tons of blood plasma, serums and drugs into the country.

Neighboring Colombia collected money for the quake victims, and a contribution of one million pesos was expected.

Gen. MacArthur Is Not Enthused Over Return To Testify

TOKYO, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur, who makes no secret of his views on Communism in the Far East, is reportedly unenthusiastic today about returning to Washington to testify on an arms-for-China program.

Informal sources say that nothing short of a direct request from his superiors will bring the Pacific commander back to the U. S. The general and his aides have remained silent on the appeal of Sen. Knowland (R) Calif. That the Allied Supreme Commander be called to Washington to give his views on a proposed aid program for the Chinese Nationalists.

But it is generally believed that Gen. MacArthur is no more anxious to return now than he was a year ago. The general has made his views abundantly clear in the past few years in several public statements.

Some Hope That Cool Wave May Come From West

(By International News Service)
Western Pennsylvanians today cast hopeful glances toward Butte, Mont., where a real, honest-to-goodness cold wave was moving slowly eastward.

But weather forecasters cautioned sweltering Pennsylvanians not to count too much on the beaut from Butte. It may miss western Pennsylvania altogether, and at best won't arrive until Thursday.

Butte, which had a high of 92 degrees Sunday, awakened Monday to find the temperature down to 42. And this morning it was 38.

Western Pennsylvania, meanwhile, sweated out temperatures in the upper 80s and low 90s yesterday, and prepared for a range from 83 to 95 today and tomorrow.

It could have been worse. At Yuma, Ariz., yesterday the maximum was 105.

Red Drive In China Picking Up Momentum

CANTON, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Well informed sources said today that Generalissimo Chu Teh, Communist commander-in-chief, has thrown all his available troops into an eight pronged drive aimed at terminating the civil war.

Chu Teh's design, these circles said, is to end the fighting and arrange a coalition government at an early date.

The Communist drive was reported picking up momentum along a 1320 mile front, stretching from northwest China to Fukien province on the west coast, then southwards to Kwangsi and Kwangtung provinces.

Moving Rapidly
Dispatches from Hong Kong said the Communists were moving rapidly toward Kwangsi province, in a drive to cut off 200,000 retreating Nationalist soldiers.

Kwangsi is adjacent to Kwangtung province, where the provincial government is.

Third Class City League Delegates Consider Problems

HARRISBURG, Aug. 9.—(INS)—The leadership of the Pennsylvania League of Third Class Cities, one of the more potent lobbies operating during sessions of the legislature, was threatened today by rebellion.

President Walter E. Greenwood of Coatesville was assailed during a pre-convention conference late yesterday by Clairton Mayor John J. Mullen.

"Is Greenwood an agent for the league or is he the league?" asked Mullen during the meeting of mayors and city solicitors.

Greenwood, who has headed the league for more than a score of years, was accused of taking little cognizance of the recommendations of member cities and attacked for his opposition to city-manager government.

The league will close its three-day 50th annual convention Thursday with the election of officers. New Castle Mayor J. F. Haven presided during the pre-convention meeting.

Wilkes-Barre Quits
Debate was touched off as 25 delegates discussed withdrawal of Wilkes-Barre from the league.

Mullen said Wilkes-Barre had left the organization because

Housing Expediter Tighe Woods Testifies In Congress Probers Session

HUNT AND VAUGHAN LEADING FIGURES

By GLENN M. GREEN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Housing Expediter Tighe Woods told Congress today that alleged "Five Percenter" James V. Hunt was known as "The King-Maker" in Washington and was at least indirectly responsible for getting him his job.

Woods testified in the Senate "Five Percent" probe after investigators made public a Hunt memo purporting to show that White House aide Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan had a hand in an attempt to lift a ban on Tanforan (Calif.) race track construction.

The memo said that Vaughan was "damned sore" at Frank Creedon, then housing expediter, for a "brush-off" of the Tanforan group, which assertedly included one time White House pass-holder John Maragon, a friend of Vaughan's.

Vaughan Arranged Meeting
According to the data from Hunt's files, Vaughan personally arranged a meeting at the housing expediter's office for discussion of the Tanforan question.

Woods testified that he visited Washington in 1947 and was entertained by Hunt, whom he called "an old friend of the family."

Woods then was in the Chicago Regional Rent Control office.

Woods said Hunt arranged a meeting with Creedon, then expediter, and then

Astrologist Found Dead In Her Home

BALTIMORE, Md., Aug. 9.—(INS)—Police theorized today that what Mrs. Emma A. Kefalos, 55-year-old Baltimore astrologist, did not see in her crystal ball may have been the cause of her death.

The fortune teller's body was found on the second floor of her home near the waterfront with a six-foot length of electric cord wrapped around her neck.

Authorities investigating the possibility of murder suggested that the fortune teller may have met with sudden death at the hands of a dissatisfied customer.

That is all fixed, at least for Thursday, August 11 when 48 New Castle merchants are staging one of their traditional Dollar Days.

By arrangement with the Regent and Penn Theatres, mass "baby sitting" will be in effect on Thursday from 10 a. m. to 12 noon. All that is necessary is to park junior in the theatre, pay a small fee for children's matinees and then be on your way shopping.

Children's Pictures
In the meantime junior will be entertained with comics, children's pictures and features made for youngsters.

As for Dollar Day, it promises to be one of the best. It may be the heat, but certainly isn't stupidity, but the merchants have given their stocks of merchandise the heat treatment and have come out with bargains that sound almost like the days when eggs were 25 cents a dozen.

That goes for everything. Shoes and ships and sealing wax. Apricots and zithers, buttons and yo-yos and carpet slippers and xylophones (nearly missed that one).

The forty eight merchants who are participating in the Dollar Day special are determined to reduce their inventories and if it means cutting the sale price down to the cost price, that's all right.

Dollar Day starts at nine in the morning and continues all day. If you want to shop from ten until noon, the coolest hours of the day, bring the youngsters downtown park them in the theatres named and then gorge yourself on bargains.

Body Found; Woman Believed Drowned
STEELETON, Pa., Aug. 9.—(INS)—Steeleton police today sought to identify the body of a well-dressed woman which was pulled out of shallow water and mud at the shore-line of the Susquehanna river.

Chief Joseph Sostar said the body was warm when found by two boys playing at the river yesterday. He said the woman's fingerprints would be taken today.

Acting Dauphin County Coroner G. Finfield Yarnall said the woman died of drowning.

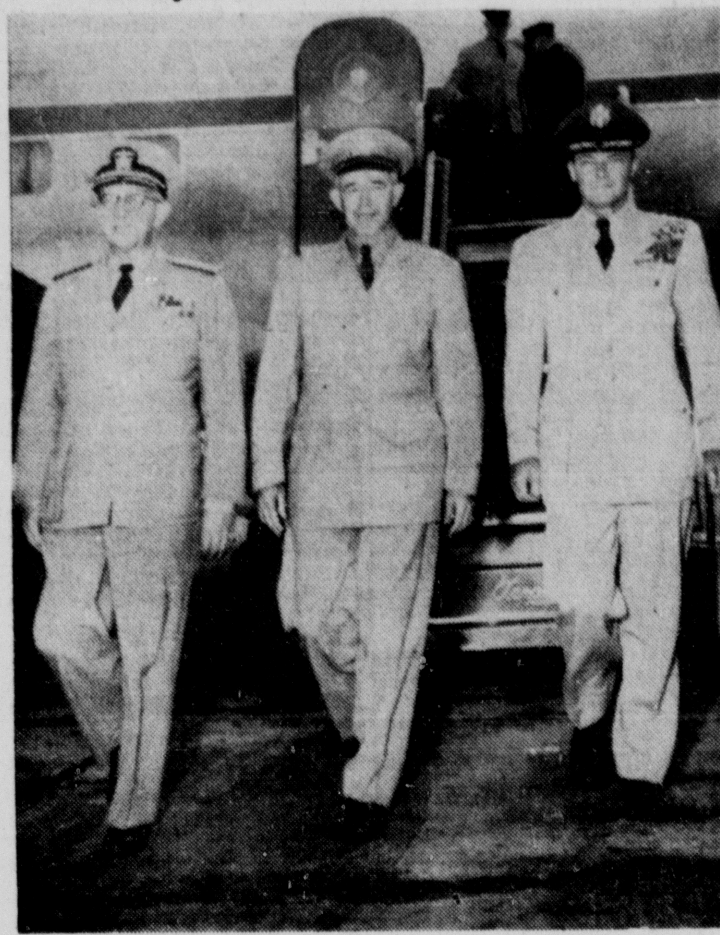

Police said all identification had been removed from the body.

The woman was described as 5' 7" tall, about 135 pounds, brown hair graying at the temples. She wore a white jersey dress, grey jacket and tan shoes.

POLIO IN STATE
HARRISBURG, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Forty-nine cases of poliomyelitis were reported to the State Health Department in the past week bringing the 1949 total to 122.

Thirty-six counties reported the disease present. They were headed by Northumberland with 16 cases, Erie with 12, Allegheny with nine, and Dauphin with eight.

Joint Chiefs Of Staff Back From Europe

Complete Tour To Discuss Defense Plans For Europe Under Atlantic Pact

REPORT START MADE IN SPEEDING PLANS

By DARRELL GARWOOD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.

—The nation's top military leaders returned to Washington today from an historic 10-day trip to Europe and declared that they made "a grand start in speeding defense plans under the Atlantic Pact."

The U. S. joint chiefs of staff landed at National Airport at 7:32 a. m. EDT., aboard President Truman's special plane, The Independence, which carried them on their flight to Frankfurt, London, Paris and Vienna.

The military leaders who made the trip are Gen. Omar N. Bradley, army chief of staff; Adm. Louis Denfeld, chief of naval operations; and Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, air force chief.

Bradley declared that they had "a grand visit" with the military heads of all the Atlantic Pact nations. He added:

Start Toward Unity
"It was a grand start toward unity and collective security under the Atlantic Pact. We believe our discussions will shorten the period needed for organization of defense of the pact nations."

Denfeld told reporters that there was no suggestion of increasing American troops in Germany or in U. S. warships in the Mediterranean. He also denied that the United States intends to set up a unified command in the Mediterranean area.

Vandenberg said the substitution of 75 jet fighter planes for outmoded American aircraft in Germany will be completed Jan. 1. He said this is the only strengthening of overseas forces contemplated at present.

All three of the chiefs appeared to be in fine physical condition. They will report on their trip Wednesday before the combined Senate Armed Services and Foreign Relations Committees.

One Major Decision
The American military leaders announced one major decision during the swing around western Europe.

This was a move to substitute jet planes for all propeller-driven U. S. military aircraft now assigned to western Germany. Presumably, groundwork was laid for several other defense measures.

An early decision, based on the chiefs talks with military leaders who met with them in London and Paris, is expected to determine whether "regional groups" will be formed under the Atlantic Pact.

Although the tour was not concerned primarily with arms aid to

Improvement In Italo-Yugoslav Relations Seen

By MICHAEL CHINIGO
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

SELLA VALSUGANA, Italy,
Aug. 9.—Italian Premier Alcide
DeGasperi forecast today an improvement in Italo-Yugoslav political relations, provided Italians in Yugoslavia and the Free Territory of Trieste receive "fair treatment."

The premier, in reply to a questionnaire submitted by International News Service, said:

"Within the framework of a more intense European cooperation there could be included a real improvement in Italo-Yugoslav relations."

There has been considerable talk in the last few days of my-ing with Marshal Tito but it is evident that diplomatic encounters are not improved nor concluded on mere hypotheses.

"In my Trieste speech (on the eve of the first Trieste elections)
I expressed the desire that as we found peace on the matter of fishing we would find peace among men."

Signed Trade Agreement
"We have just signed a trade agreement based on our reciprocal interests but it is clear that Italo-Yugoslav relations, which are now 'correct', cannot become friendly if they are not founded on fair treatment of Italians—particularly those in the free territory."

"Only when we are tranquilized on their fate will an atmosphere be created in which an attempt can be made for ample collaboration aimed at definitely solving the Adriatic question."

"I believe this is possible because involved are technical economic agreements which can be concluded between the most diverse regimes."

Government circles interpreted DeGasperi's statement as an open invitation to Tito to "carry the ball
on the next play."

Commenting on the Council of Europe meeting in Strasbourg, De-Gasperi said:

"European union is at its first steps. It must not lose a single occasion to move forward for the solution of international problems."

"The European Union will help prevent war and it is unthinkable that it will perish by a future war."

Greenwood did not accurately present the majority opinion to committees of the General Assembly.

Greenwood replied that his policy was to make recommendations for legislation only when he received the majority opinion. Objections were raised that he ignored mandates of the majority of cities represented at meetings.

Additional opposition confronted Greenwood on his bitter stand against the city manager form of government.

Elections Thursday
The conference took no action on the question, but Greenwood admitted Mullen "made a good point". Indications were that opposition to Greenwood would manifest itself during the elections scheduled for Thursday if opponents could find a candidate to oppose him.

The conference passed a resolution to put the league on record to favor "exclusive municipal control to regulate traffic."

Cities at present may not erect traffic lights across state highways within the municipalities without permission from the state highways department.

General approval was given to amendments made by the legislature to the local tax broadener.

"The tax-broadener is working in good shape and we're going to stay with it," Haven said. Officials agreed they "can't work without it."

The delegates protested to the state health department for sur-portedly overlooking townships in the clean streams drive.

Delegates said the sanitary water board orders cities to stop pollution but neglects to follow through in nearby townships.

The schedule for today called for the president's report from Greenwood and an address by Commerce
Secretary Theodore Roosevelt III.

Expect Bradley To Be Named
Gen. Bradley within a few days
—soon after President Truman signs the new military unification bill—is expected to be named to the newly-created post as full-time
chairman of the joint chiefs.

The congressional investigation of the B-36 bomber procurement program, starting today, lists Gen.
Vandenberg as a witness. Testimony may be required from other military leaders.

The question of whether Admiral Richard E. Byrd shall undertake another expedition to the antarctic is on Admiral Denfeld's desk for an early decision.

All three are expected to be concerned over the decision of congressional leaders to allow the peacetime draft to expire next June 29. They may request early reconsideration of the question.

The military leaders are expected to agree that enlistments are now adequate for the armed services, but that recruitment will fall off unless the draft is kept "on the books."

Report 81,356 Union Officials Have Now Signed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(INS)—

The National Labor Relations
Board reported today that 81,356 union officials had current non-communist affidavits on file with NLRB on Aug. 1.

This is 4,646 more than the number on file a year earlier. However, it is considerably smaller than the July 1 figure because many affidavits expired during the month.

The affidavits are filed in compliance with a provision of the Taft-Hartley law requiring union officials to state they are not communists before their unions can have access to NLRB machinery.

Many labor leaders have refused to sign. The affidavits must be renewed each year.

diter, and that about three weeks
later he was recalled to Washington as deputy administrator under Creedon.

The housing expediter said Hunt
subsequently "took credit" for getting him the job. But Woods added:
"Personally, I always felt that I sold myself in the conversation with Mr. Creedon."

Woods declared that he was "completely flabbergasted" when he was named housing expediter in November, 1947, succeeding Creedon
in the top housing post.

Couldn't Let Me Know

Woods, asked if Hunt took credit
for the appointment, said:
"He said he knew for some time
that I was going to be appointed but he couldn't let me know. He did not say directly that he had arranged the appointment."

Woods admitted "it is quite possible I might never have met Cre-edon," without Hunt's help.

The housing expediter said Hunt
was referred to in Washington gatherings as "The King Maker" because he frequently claimed credit for obtaining jobs for people.

Woods said he had had a telephone call from Hunt soon after he took over as housing chief.

He said Hunt told him he "had a bad public relations problem in the agency" and that some "friends of his got pushed around pretty badly." He said Hunt mentioned one "especially smart attorney named Shulman."

Woods said he did not know it was in connection with the Tanforan Race Track and subsequently dropped the complaint because he did not know Shulman personally.

tion picture in the U. S. was in New York City in 1896.

President Of Philippines Asks
For Cooperation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(INS)—

Philippine President Elpidio
Quirino called on the United States today to cooperate with his government against Communist forces in the Far East.

The visiting chief of state went to Capitol Hill to address both the House and Senate and later was scheduled to confer with President Truman in the White House.

In his House speech, Quirino urged "this mightiest of all legislatures in the world" to cooperate in
"a most glorious adventure" to preserve democracy against the
"onrush of a totalitarian system
battering down the doors of our neighbors."

views closely paralleled those of the Generalissimo. He accompanied Chiang on his trips to the Philippines and Korea.

Wu voiced the belief that Chiang has profited by his mistakes of the past, and is now cleaning corrupt elements out of the Kuomintang government party.

Review Committee Pleases

The high Nationalist official expressed satisfaction with the appointment of the Jessup committee to review the Far East problem.
He predicted this group will reach
some of the identical conclusions
he has.

Wu asserted:
"America is able to aid anti-Communists in China without losing ground because in China, Chinese are fighting Chinese, so the aid would carry no imperialist stigma. In the southern countries (Burma, Indo-China, etc.) Communism is using the guise of Nationalism and there, the U. S.
would offend all Asiatic Nationalism by aiding the British, French and Dutch against native movements."

"Diplomatic Retreat"

He termed the white paper "a diplomatic retreat" which leaves Chinese government troops in the field to "annihilation" and 200-000,000 people as yet free facing the virtual certainty of Communist rule.

Wu commented:
"It seems to me good strategy to have what you can."

In defense of Chiang, he added:
"The hope of developing new leadership is vain. Chiang has been the ruler for more than 20 years. Since the fruitless peace talks he's held the unquestioned
loyalty of all provincial leaders . . .
"Efforts to develop new leadership now would only destroy the united front Chiang has been able to forge."

"All Chinese remember he united the nation in three years and withstood the aggression of superior Japanese arms for eight years."

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 9.—Thirty-second interviews: "I need a dash of temperament like I need a hole in the head. I'm not the type. Some actresses are built along the lines where temperament adorns them like a form-fitting gown. Usually they are actresses with what I call the dramatic look. I don't have that."

"I try to give everybody a break, just as I hope for the same courtesy in return. On this temperament thing: It's wise to discern between temperament and just plain temper. If it's plain temper you're exhibiting, stop it. I say. You're being tiresome and uncooperative!"

ONLY ONE REGRET

Elsa Lanchester—"I have only one regret these days. There isn't any possibility of having a law passed to make the day 48 hours long instead of a measly 24."

"During the past year I have appeared in 'The Big Clock,' 'The Secret Garden,' 'Happy Times' and 'Come to the Stable.' I also have managed to keep up my six nights each week at Hollywood's famous Turnabout theater as a guest star. I recently completed my 2300th consecutive performance there."

"Nothing would tire me more than not being busy. I can't understand any actor who doesn't want to keep working all the time. 'My husband (Charles Laughton) is in complete agreement with me. He has his four nights each week teaching Shakespeare classes in addition to his picture work. 'We feel younger every year' because we keep busy all the time."

OLD FASHIONED

Lucille Ball—"I have become a fan of old-fashioned square dancing—and so have several million other persons."

"The return of this type of group dancing to popularity has been a great boon to American social life. It is helping revive the neighborliness which is traditional to our country, but which has almost become lost in the fast and furious pace of modern existence."

"But more important than the lift square dancing has given to private parties, it seems to me, is its effect on community social life. 'I have talked to public playground directors who tell me that adult attendance at community functions has tripled since square dancing became a vogue. They speak about a renaissance of the spirit of the town meeting and the Saturday night social institutions upon which this country's democracy was founded. That is good. Very good.'"

GO CHASE YOURSELF

Elmer Snerke—"The reputation of a certain gossip actress as a 'cat' is so widespread that the other day Lassie chased her up a tree!"

Parisian Designer
Presents New Styles

PARIS, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Parisian designer Jacques Fath's new styles feature extremely narrow skirts and the use of much black velvet and white satin.

The Fath collection, judged by experts as easily the outstanding one so far presented and the most chic and Parisian, highlighted last night two distinct lines.

First, the ultra simple school girl type, and second, the super-sophisticated grand dame style, both with terribly narrow skirts forcing the wearer to shuffle rather than walk.

Many of the gowns have slim skirts pleated with bias panels, doubled on one side and buttoned on both sides.

For day dresses, Fath has very high necks and narrow kimono sleeves while for evening gowns he stresses bare shoulders and plunging—but not daring—necklines.

Fath has used much black velvet and white satin in his creations while some of his short, slim evening dresses are entirely paillette (spangled).

Despite the strike of Parisian seamstresses, Fath managed to present his style show without having to pin the dresses on the models and without a basting stitch showing.

Girl Scout Camp
Opens On Sunday

The 1949 season for the Girl Scout camp officially got under way on Sunday with 80 girls registered for the two week period. The girls arrived at the camp site on the Boy Scout camp grounds near Rose Point for their two weeks of fun and relaxation on Sunday afternoon.

The first event of the season was a swimming meet at 4:30 p. m. The girls were organized into four age groups. Following a hearty meal, flag retreat and a progressive 'Scouts Own' service was conducted in the amphitheater under the supervision of the camp staff.

The young ladies will get their first real taste of camp life today when they will participate in the various outdoor events which are planned for them. They will enjoy swimming, singing, cooking, hiking and nature programs. Miss Mildred Lusk is camp director and with her staff is supervising the camp program.

No Commission Changes Soon
First Appointment In Turnpike Commission To Expire In 1951
OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, Aug. 9.—(INS)—The top administration level of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission will be unchanged by appointments until 1951, a date by which the eastern and western extensions of the toll road are expected to be completed. The first appointment to expire will be that of Edward N. Jones of Harrisburg, a longtime Democrat associated with the Earle administration. Jones' term will expire in 1951. Other expiration dates are James J. Coyne of Pittsburgh, 1953; Chairman Thomas J. Evans of Coal Dale, 1955; and former Republican State Chairman James F. Torrance of Export, 1957. Jones and Evans are the only original members of the first commission set up in 1937. Jones was the first chairman.

The State Planning board has pointed to the "tremendous potential energy" available in Pennsylvania should atomic energy prove not economically feasible. The board said that despite the advances made by hydro-electric power, "it does not appear that the steam power plant is in danger of being supplanted during the lifetime of this present generation. The board based its stand on construction costs, loss of agricultural land and widespread flooding necessary to store water in dams. Deputy Mines Secretary Joseph J. Walsh said water power is wasted if not used. "The power of falling water in the nation's streams may be utilized as long as nature continues to function as at present. Coal, oil and gas, on the other hand, must be considered irreplaceable national assets. The annual rainfall in Pennsylvania has been estimated at 42 inches.

The Pennsylvania Motor Truck association is distributing reprints of a commercial car journal editorial which attempts to turn the tables on highway officials who blame heavy trucks for damaging Pennsylvania's vast network of roads. The PMTA is engaged in a new campaign to raise the 13,000-pound axle load limit enforced in Pennsylvania. The editorial endorsed by the PMTA reports that damage to roads will be "patchy" whether an 18,000-pound limit is legal or a 22,400 top is enforced. "There must be a contributing factor," the editorial states. "There always is. And it can be laid at the door of the highway engineer, whether the cause be faulty subsoil, inadequate drainage or improper construction." The editorial also asserts that "the patchwork of engineering mistakes should be corrected, and not just repairs, as is too often the case."

WHAT ABOUT GHOST STORIES?

"With a shudder and a groan the white formless figure moved closer and closer until..." Some of the youngsters in the circle gathered about the storyteller, shudder about themselves, some put their fingers to their ears, while others seem to be enjoying every gruesome detail.

"What about ghost stories?" There's no easy yes or no answer. For all kinds of reasons, one youngster will be definitely frightened and may stay awake long after the story has been told. Others will have nightmares or show anxiety in other ways. But many will get a great "kick" out of having the chills run up and down their backs.

Parents and other adults should be alert to their audiences. Though it seems a bit on the silly side to eliminate the fun that comes to many a well-told ghost story, it's important not to overstimulate youngsters for whom the supernatural is a frightening thing. Probably the best source is a middle-of-the-road one, going easy until one is sure just how much a particular child can take. It is wise, too, not to be too realistic. One can help children both enjoy such tales and see that they can't really be true.

Unemployment Trend Continuing Upward

Turn For Better Expected By Employment Officials By End Of Month

Unemployment continues to show a slight increase in Lawrence county, according to figures released by the local employment office on East Washington street.

Figures show that 3,618 unemployed persons are currently registered at the employment office compared to 3,044 for a month ago. Of these 3,618, over 1,500 are veterans.

During the month of July 1,764 new and reopened state claims were filed as compared to 1,607 in June. However, only 314 G. I. claims were filed during the month of July as compared to 859 in June. Veterans coming home from schools for the summer vacation were partially responsible for the high G. I. figure in June, according to George Gettings, director of the local office.

Temporary layoffs due to shutdowns, strikes and various other reasons are responsible for a great part of the increase in the county. Mr. Gettings explains. A decrease in unemployment is expected by the end of this month by employment officials.

A total of 88 persons were placed by the office in July compared to 83 in June. Workers are available for the majority of fields and the employment office is in need of orders from local employers.

Six persons were placed in agricultural positions last month, it is reported, and greater demands are anticipated later this month. Temporary jobs picking apples will probably be available for experienced pickers soon.

GUESTS AT CHURCH WEDDING "To settle a dispute, please tell me if guests at a church wedding should stand or remain seated. I think they should stand during the ceremony only."

Answer: Upon their arrival at the church, guests are shown to their proper pews by the ushers. They are seated and remain seated until the organist plays "The Wedding March" and the bridal procession starts up the aisle. Then the guests rise and remain standing during the entire ceremony and the recessional. This is done as a mark of courtesy to the bride and the groom and because a wedding ceremony is one of the most sacred of church rites.

Guests should not leave their pews until the parents of the bride and the groom, followed by the guests "within the ribbons" have been escorted to the door.

None of the guests should leave their seats until the mothers of both the bride and the groom have been taken to the door by one of the ushers.

The bride's mother leaves first, then the groom's mother, then relatives and friends "in the ribbons," followed by the remaining guests.

Question: My daughter is engaged. She has been wearing her ring for a month but as yet I have not announced her engagement. When should I announce it and when should I have her fiancé's parents to dinner?

Answer: Since she has been displaying her ring for so long a time, there is no reason for having an announcement at this time. If her friends have not met her fiancé, you may give a party, tea, luncheon or dinner and present him to them. Have the young man's parents to dinner as soon as possible. This is especially necessary if they have not called upon you and your daughter.

Suosio Tells Of Visit To Finland

Speaks At Meeting Of Rotarians At The Castleton On Monday

David Suosio, well-known East Side merchant gave his fellow Rotarians a word picture of Finland at the Monday noon lunch of the club in The Castleton.

With his wife, Mr. Suosio flew to Finland in June and returned late in July. He had his car shipped to Finland and was thus enabled to tour the country extensively. His talk was an interesting one delivered in narrative style and interspersed with humorous incidents that occurred during his visit.

Finland is recovering economically, Mr. Suosio said. About the only shortage there now is men's dress shirts. Foodstuffs are plentiful and the nation has a surplus of some foods, particularly pork and cheese. Taxes are high, about three times what they are in the United States, but the people are working together to restore their economic balance.

In the summer the days and nights are almost the same, Mr. Suosio said. About one in the morning there is a short period of twilight but the sun rises again. In the winter, of course, the reverse is true and the 24 hours are mostly dark.

Mr. Suosio visited a number of

According to James F. Rimel, district representative for the Standard Oil Company of Pennsylvania, the building is to be completely razed and a new modern service center will occupy the location, which he hopes to have ready about the same time that the new city hall is finished.

Ask 42 States To File Requests For Housing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(INS)—The government has invited 500 local housing authorities in 42 states to file requests for a share in the new multi-billion-dollar low cost housing program.

Public Housing Commissioner John T. Egan announced that application forms are being sent to housing officers in communities across the nation as the first step in launching the vast project.

Egan expects a quick response. He said that as many as 50,000 units may be started in the next 12 months, if present plans materialize.

The seven billion, 500 million dollar housing bill authorizes construction of 810,000 units over the next six years.

No more than 135,000 units may be constructed in any one year but provision is made for the President to scale the figure up or down between 50,000 and 200,000, if conditions warrant, Egan declared.

First Step

"This first step in the program has national significance because it means that localities at last can begin to meet an urgent housing need that has been crying for attention for years."

"It means that low income families who cannot hope to buy or rent adequate homes on the private market will have an opportunity to obtain decent, safe and sanitary homes within their means."

The application forms have two purposes: To give local authorities an opportunity to make reservations for specific numbers of housing units and to apply for preliminary federal loans to be used for planning local programs.

Communities Anxious

Egan said: "Many local authorities have informed us that their communities are anxious to proceed with local programs with all possible speed. Some of them have had preliminary plans in readiness for several years, awaiting the day when the necessary federal aid would be available to permit them to put their plans into operation." The six-year program is designed to provide homes for more than 3,000,000 persons. Local authorities will build and operate the housing, but the government will lend as much as 90 per cent of the funds required to start a project. Funds are also designated for rent subsidies to keep monthly payments at the lowest possible cost.

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

casual and even flippant manner, quite unbecomingly the gravity of the occasion and the dignity of the office. Granted Mr. Clark's unquestioned ability in many lines, it cannot be said by any stretch of the imagination that he has a judicial temperament. Rather he is of the crusading district attorney type, and many of his crusades are akin to the windmill tilting exploits of the redoubtable Don Quixote. It may be that elevation to the new station will have a sobering and stabilizing effect, as has happened in several instances during the past few years, and it is to be hoped that the new Justice will take his seat with a full realization of the responsibilities of the office. Unquestionably, the Supreme Court has been watered down considerably since 1933, but candor compels us to admit that its specific gravity will not be raised by the new acquisition.

Political Compensation

The appointment of Senator McGrath as Attorney General was frankly compensation for political services. His leadership of the Democratic National Committee out of the Slough of Despond and his management of the campaign left the President and the Party under great obligations to him. True, the campaign was marked by disregard of ethics, propriety and veracity, but nevertheless it was successful, which is what counts.

In late years it has become customary to reward such a performance with the Postmaster generalship although there is no apparent reason for this practice except it be that the Post Office is the only department which can run itself regardless of who may be its titular head. Benjamin Franklin, our first Postmaster General, really had a man's size job, for in the face of tremendous difficulties he organized and put into operation a postal service which for its day was a model of efficiency. Today, the head of the Department has little to do beyond putting out special stamp issues, and if he or his commander-in-chief chances to be a philatelist, this duty occupies a great deal of his time, as evidenced by the issues we have seen commemorating all kinds of obscure anniversaries and countless varieties of "weeks." The Attorney General has much heavier responsibilities, and we wish Mr. McGrath all success in his new assignment. He can hardly fail to be at least as capable and efficient as some of his predecessors, and he will have the satisfaction of not being greatly overshadowed by any of his colleagues in the cabinet.

Sight Returning

BORN blind, three-year-old Marie Helen Del Valle smiles hopefully in the Los Angeles General Hospital as she gradually appears to be regaining her sight, thanks to the aid of an anonymous "Lady Bountiful." The unidentified friend offered to pay her expenses and an eye specialist holds hope that the child will have normal sight. (International)

Crack B. And O. Train Will Make Stops Here

Streamlined Diesel Train 'Columbian' To Make Regular Stops, Beginning August 14

Announcement is made by Harry G. Boyd, local ticket agent, that the streamlined diesel all-coach train "Columbian," which travels from Chicago to Washington, D. C., and New York City, beginning August 14, will make regular stops in this city, going in both directions.

One of the coaches on this train has been named "New Castle".

This Baltimore & Ohio train has the "vista dome" and an observation car. The train is equipped with radio, and the hostess announces the interesting viewpoints along the route; all this at no extra charge.

State Police Say:

Many car owners find it convenient to leave keys and registration cards in their automobile. So do auto thieves. This is a practice that should be discouraged. Another practice that should be discouraged is that of leaving personal papers, identification, etc., in a prominent place in your car. Armed with these important means of identification a car thief might easily pass off your car as belonging to him, or to be able to dispose of tires, radio, or other accessories from your car. If you keep these in your car make sure and keep the car well locked.

Sale Of Flowers In State Becomes Large Business

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—Sale of Pennsylvania flowers is big business with sales grossing $20,000,000 annually, according to the flower growers' conference.

J. M. Fry, director of the Agricultural Extension Service for Pennsylvania State College, said the importance of the industry is reflected in the work of county agricultural agents.

Flowers, like field crops, require proper soil management, right cultural practices, disease and insect control, and equally expert care in marketing, he said.

Rural gardens operate in 29 counties where amateur flower growing is taught by the extension service.

Last year Fry pointed out, 21,309 persons attended extension field meetings and demonstrations devoted to flowers and ornamental plantings, or heard growers problems discussed. Work with greenhouses increased over 300 per cent. A. O. Rasmussen, extension ornamental horticulturalist, stated that Chester county leads all counties of the United States in production of flowers under glass.

More Than 9,400 Cases Of Polio

Lessening Of Disease's Incidence In Some Parts Of Country Is Reported

(By International News Service)

The nation's polio victims numbered more than 9,400 today but some isolated regions reported a lessening in the disease's incidence.

More hot weather spreading over much of the nation brought added warnings from doctors to follow all precautionary measures possible. High on the list of suggestions is plenty of rest and avoidance of crowds.

The Arkansas state health department reported a definite slowdown in polio's spread during the last 48 hours. Arkansas was one of the first regions to be listed as an "epidemic" area. There have been 537 cases of infantile paralysis recorded in the state since the first of the year. At least 32 persons have died.

Texas health authorities have reported more than 1,200 cases since the disease started its long rampage, but Dr. George Cox, state health officer, said he believes the spread has slowed to some extent.

New York City continued hard hit by the crippling illness. Fifty-one new cases have been reported there. At least 63 persons have died of polio in New York state since Jan. 1.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

An aviator, relates Roy Huggins, was sent on a mission to a distant part of the globe. When he returned to his base, he noticed it was strangely quiet. Everything was in perfect order, but there wasn't a sign of life in the place. He wandered through town in growing astonishment. Human beings and animals simply had vanished from the scene. He tore back to the airport, filled his plane with high octane gas, and flew, terrified, to New York, London, Moscow, Shanghai. While he had been on his mission, every living creature apparently had disappeared. He was the only man alive in the world? He weighed the situation carefully and found it intolerable. Suicide seemed the only solution. He swallowed a vial of deadly poison and calmly waited for it to take effect, and the room started swimming before his eyes, he heard a familiar sound.

It was the telephone ringing. Copyright, 1948, by Bennett Cerf. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

If the water in rivers, ponds and lakes were chemically pure, no plant or animal could live in it.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—For $2 plus tax, a lady can now buy diamonds.

A costume jewelry maker introduced today a line of pendants, brooches and earrings, set with a granule of minimum-size, maximum sparkle diamond in the center.

The genuine gem is surrounded by tiny, unguine pearls. They are mounted on an onyx-like stone which is in turn mounted on a gold disc.

Brookcraft jewelers say it's the first time in 20 years that precious jewelry has sold for less than a Mickey Mouse watch.

It takes a hunk of money to buy a hunk of diamond, so . . . When not in the chips, buy chips.

American Dinner
Tables To Be Amply
Served Rest Of Year
WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(INS)—American dinner tables will continue to be amply served during the rest of 1949 and consumers are expected to buy as much food as they used last year.
This forecast comes from the Department of Agriculture in a general roundup of the food situation.
The foreign demand picture is about the same. Europe and other food-deficit areas must continue to eat and a large part of this food will come from the United States, either through the Marshall plan or Army purchases for relief feeding in occupied areas.
Export demands for food crops in the remaining months of 1949 therefore will continue strong. But agriculture officials say overseas shipments may be slightly below the last six months of 1948.
There will be more meat in the final quarter of the year largely because hogs from the large spring pig crop will be hitting the market.
Officials think these animals will be marketed at lighter weights than last year, but there will be a substantial increase in the number slaughtered.
Other than pork, meat supplies are forecast as smaller than last year although there will be more of the better grades of beef. Veal lamb and mutton all are in shorter supply.

Death Of Sister
PITTSBURGH, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Joseph Kensing, Jr., faces his accuser today when he appears before a Wilkesburg justice on charges that he murdered his 12-year-old sister, Carole Lee, last Dec. 10.

The 19-year-old youth was arrested for the alleged brutal murder by Private Detective Al Florio who also swore out warrants alleging that Kensing's parents were accessories after the fact of murder.
John J. Hannaway, a fellow worker of young Kensing's at the Union Railroad, also will appear before the Justice of the Peace Frederick N. Megahan. He, too, is charged with being an accessory after the fact of murder.
Florio decided to arrest young Kensing when Hannaway changed his previous statement and issued a contradictory one Sunday which stated that he had not seen Joseph Jr. after 7:45 p. m. the night of Carole Lee's death.
Florio has accused police and the Allegheny county district attorney's office of withholding evidence in the case. He claims to have a wealth of new evidence, but the district attorney's office denied this.

Field Artillery Reported Accurate On Firing Range

Men From 229th Will Break Camp
Next Friday And Ready For Return Trip To Homes

(Special to The News)
INDIANTOWN GAP, Aug. 9.—The 229th Field Artillery has just returned from the firing range. It was the most successful firing that has been done for several years. As one regular army Colonel remarked, "I would sure hate to be around a target at which the 229th was firing."

Lt. Col. George F. Mitchell said today, "I believe this is the best firing the 229th ever did. The officers and men of the Battalion deserve a lot of credit. Many of them were firing for the first time and for some, it is their first time at camp, yet they made a wonderful record."

Every officer in the Battalion took his turn at directing the fire. The fire direction centers, under the direction of Maj. Alfred Barnes were very effective in giving swift and correct data to the gun personnel. Capt. Roy Coffman supervised the men at the guns.

A good radio and telephone system, between the various installations was had all during the firing. All in all it was a good field problem and enjoyed by all the men.

Seek Trophy

This was excellent practice for the firing competition, with the other units, for the Wallace trophy. This firing will be done next Wednesday and the outfit doing the best and most accurate firing will be given the Wallace trophy. This trophy is given by Brig. General Brenton Wallace, commanding general of the 28th Division Artillery. The competitive spirit for the trophy is high as all units would like to take it home to make it a permanent part of their Army. If the 229th fires like it did the past two days, it will take some good firing by the other Battalions to beat them.

The 229th received the most

To win this trophy, Battery C displayed the most outstanding performance during the period 1 July 1948 to 31 December 1948. The trophy is awarded on the basis of performance at annual field training and armory drill training. During this time, Battery C has attained 100% of its enlisted strength and 90% average attendance at drill meetings. This is a great honor for Battery C and the 229th as a whole. Col Mitchell is proud that this trophy, named after America's number one soldier, will be in the 229th.

Next Friday the men will break camp and leave for New Castle at 11 p. m. that night and arrive in New Castle at 8 a. m. Saturday morning.

Varied Reports Made To Police

Petty Thievery, Minor Auto Accidents, Among Reports Made Overnight

More petty thievery was reported to the police department in the last twenty-four hours.

Nick Berkley of West Garfield avenue, reported that thieves had broken into his cellar and ransacked the place, but he could find nothing stolen. The thieves were unable to gain admission to the first floor.

C. B. Tyler, of Beckford street, reported two blankets and a set of tools stolen from his automobile parked overnight in front of his home. The car was unlocked.

A woman reported to police that a car had been pulling over to the curb on City Line street, and the driver was "bothering" little girls. She admonished him about it and she says he swore at her. The woman got the number of the car and reported it.

Two convertible cars were reported racing on East Leasure avenue between Mercer and Albert street. Police are checking the numbers.

Chester Musser, of R. D. 1, Petersburg, O., was hit by a hit-skip driver on North Jefferson street yesterday afternoon. Police have the number of the car and will bring the driver in for questioning. Mr. Musser was not seriously hurt.

Mary Zambelli of Superior street, was hit by the car of Gerald F. Kelch, in Cochran alley late Monday. The woman was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital not seriously hurt. Mr. Kelch reported to the police and said he had been driving slowly up the alley when the woman suddenly stepped out from the side.

The police cruiser car was hit Monday afternoon at the corner of North and Mercer street by a car driven by Mrs. Richard Smith of Emerson avenue. The cruiser was parked near the corner on the yellow line and the driver apparently cut in too sharply. No damage done although the bumpers were locked.

Councilman Albert A. Hoyland held police court this morning in the absence of Mayor John F. Haven.

Ordinary window glass is colored. If you doubt it, hold a pane of glass toward the light and look through it edgewise. The glass will appear faintly greenish due to minute quantities of iron in it.

Truckers To Enjoy Annual Corn Roast

Members of the Lawrence County chapter, Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association will enjoy their annual corn roast Thursday night August 11.

As usual the corn roast will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis A. Pearsall near Neshannock Falls and the piece de resistance will be roasting ears and barbecued spare ribs, done as only Mrs. Pearsall can do them.

Because a bridge is out on the road to Neshannock Falls, it will be necessary to go through East Brook and turn left on Route 956. The corn roast starts at six-thirty.

Boy Is Killed By Train At Kinsman

KINSMAN, O., August 9.—A race between an auto and a fast passenger train on Monday ended in instant death for the motorist, Gail E. Burnett, 17 Route 1, Cortland, on the New York Central railroad crossing two miles south of here.

The passenger train engineer, J. McHugh, told patrolmen that Burnett's car seemed to "hesitate" as it approached the railroad crossing. The speed of the train carried the car more than a half mile before the engineer was able to stop.

The pampas cat inhabits the South American pampas. It is larger than the domestic cat, but has shorter limbs, ears and tail. It lives on birds and small animals.

Leaders Predict Ford Workers To Support Strike

DETROIT, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Leaders of the CIO-United Auto Workers today predicted a 90 per cent membership endorsement for a strike against the Ford Motor Company.

Forecasters were based on a heavy turnout during the first of three days' balloting in an election held among Michigan Ford employees by the state mediation board. More than 30,000 workers voted yesterday at the River Rouge plant.

Union spokesmen said the voting might pass the 85 per cent turnout predicted for Michigan's 80,000 workers. Of the total, 64,000 are employed in Detroit plants.

The decision of the Michigan workers in their voting will determine the course of action for some 115,000 Ford employees across the nation.

Voting in Detroit was carried out with precision yesterday and police reported no incidents at the 34 booths set up on state land near the Dearborn headquarters of Local 600.

"Assignment; America"

By INEZ ROBB

(Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.)
(Distributed by International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Miss Ingrid Bergman's decision to divorce a husband afflicted with a mid-summer complaint known as galloping apathy (by humidity out of indifference).

It is her resolve to retire from the movies, to get away with it all, that fills me with nervous foreboding.

I am of the unshakable opinion that one Garbo to a generation is good measure, pressed down and running over. Miss Bergman's entry will only congest an already over-crowded field.

In A Rut

Furthermore, it leads to a widespread belief that the behavior pattern of Swedish mood picture stars is in a rut.

Like Miss Garbo, Miss Bergman seems determined to retire from the silver screen rather than from the public eye. Naturally, the first step in this direction is the selection of a disguise as once distinguished and easily penetrated, something that will stand out with the approximate visibility of a sore thumb or a branded nose.

Miss Garbo solved this matter brilliantly.

Even a tiny tint in darkest Africa knows that a tall, lank woman with a wilted ten-gallon hat at one end, ground grippers at the other and dispirited tweeds in between is Greta.

What Garbo has done, Bergman can do. I have been giving the matter serious thought and feel I have evolved the perfect disguise for Ingrid.

I have finally discarded the idea of a beard for Miss Bergman (false, naturally. I did not expect her to grow her own), after doddling with piccadilly weepers and a Van Dyke. Since World War II there are so many Bohemians with beards around New York that even one in skirts could hardly get a second glance.

Suggests Disguise

What I suggest as a disguise for Bergman is a derby and barefoot sandals. These will be the only props she will have to buy. She already has a good, basic garment in that formless raincoat, belted about her equator, in which Ingrid has been so constantly photographed in Stromboli.

As a matter of fact, I regard that raincoat as a stroke of genius, already on a par with the Garbo tweeds. Bounded on the north by a derby and on the south by barefoot sandals, it is sensational, colossal, and downright distinctive. (Not to be confused with "mistinguetto," which is French for "kid with class").

All right, so Bergman is all set for civilian life with a suitable disguise known in professional parlance as the conspicuous camouflage or the neon incognito.

Next Step

The next step is to engage in a continuous public wrangle to preserve her privacy. It will be hard to improve on the Garbo technique. When Miss Garbo is in New York, for instance, she always frequents such virtually unknown, hole-in-corner retreats as the Colony Restaurant, El Morocco, "21," and the Stork Club.

Miss Bergman can achieve the effect by having her breakfast served by liveried flunkies on the south platform of the BMT subway at Times Square during the morning rush hour.

Then there is the delayed take or slow motion attempt to cover up the face when a photographer is sighted, which Garbo has worked out to perfection. This takes practice. At first Bergman must be careful not to turn her head or cover her face with her derby too quickly or the picture will be no good and the papers won't run it. But an old hand like Bergman will soon learn the technique.

Further Chaos

For her motion picture public, Bergman's announcement that she will retire to private life means further chaos in a confused world. The awful tension will be heightened, as in the case of Garbo, by semi-annual reports that she will come out of retirement, that she will make a picture, that she won't make a picture, that she's up, she's down, she's in, she's out, she's coming, she's going—

The suspense is killing me!

But not much.

Man Tries To Avoid Arrest; Now Faces Six Other Charges

HARRISBURG, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Woes piled up today on William J. Myers, of Harrisburg R. D.

He was held last night under $300 bail for turning out his automobile lights to avoid arrest.

Today Myers faced six other charges: operating a vehicle without operator's and owner's cards, failing to stop when signaled by a policeman, speeding, reckless driving, driving on the wrong side of the road and attempted assault of an officer.

Suggests Schooling To Reduce Suicide

CHICAGO, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Robert Maynard Hutchins, outspoken chancellor of the University of Chicago, today offered Americans these observations on contemporary life:

"Adults suffer intensely from the great paradox of our time: The trivialization of life. Adult education is necessary to save them from the suicidal tendencies that boredom eventually induces.

"Keeping young people in school longer has the effect of reducing the educational system to a housing project in which the young are detained until we are ready to have them go to work."

Kids Register Bikes, Crowd Police Station

Police station was full of juveniles today but not for any violation of the criminal code.

Today is the last day to register bicycles before the city ordinance is put into effect and the kids crowded the station to get their bikes on the list.

Even at that, it is estimated there are hundreds that will not be registered before night.

It is believed Menepth, son of Rameses II, was the Egyptian pharaoh under whom the Exodus of the Jews occurred.

Unemployment In State Increases

Employment Decline, However, Does Not Extend To All Industry Lines

HARRISBURG, Aug. 9.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania State Employment Service today reported unemployment in June hit 413,000, fifty per cent above the June 1946 level.

The PSES, in a mid-year review of employment, said 132,000 fewer workers were holding jobs in June. The total jobless represented nearly nine per cent of the state's civilian labor force.

While the employment decline was widespread during the year, it did not extend to all industry lines, according to the agency.

An increase of 75,000 workers, chiefly in non-manufacturing, was offset by a reduction of 207,000 in industry as a whole. Nearly four-fifths of the decrease occurred in durable goods manufacturing lines.

Sustained downward drifts in employment were experienced by textile, inter-state railroad transportation, apparel, furniture and lumber, automobiles and non-ferrous metals, the PSES explained.

The agency in its analysis of the changing labor market pointed out that employers' demands for workers "have lessened appreciably while the supply of available workers have continued growing substantially."

The increased labor supply was brought about chiefly through the lay-offs of older, experienced workers and the entry into the market of new, inexperienced job-seekers.

Consequently, the agency said, "last year's sellers market for the services of labor is being replaced by a buyers market."

Employment declines were noted in 61 of the 74 manufacturing industry lines reporting data to the agency and in 10 out of 21 non-manufacturing lines.

"General employment losses are reported for practically every area in the state," the press said. "Most of last year's occupational labor shortages have been eliminated, and in many cases, have been replaced by surpluses."

The scarcity of jobs had particular hard effect on approximately 115,000 school and college youths who entered the labor market this summer.

Seventy-Year Term In Prison Given To Dr. Rutledge

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Aug. 9.—(INS)—Dr. Robert C. Rutledge Jr., 28, St. Louis, Mo. pediatrician, was sentenced to 70 years in the Fort Madison State Penitentiary Monday for murdering his wife's lover.

Dr. Rutledge will be eligible for parole in 30 years. Sentence was passed by District Judge J. Elm Heiserman.

Rutledge's 23-year-old wife, Sydney, sat in the courtroom and sobbed openly after sentence was announced.

Over 1,500,000 Men Have Bought Homes Through G.I. Loans

PHILADELPHIA. — (INS) — Over 1,500,000 World War II veterans have bought homes with loan guarantees provided in the G. I. Bill, the Veterans Administration has announced.

The VA said there was a sharp upturn in applications during the month of June when 27,412 forms were received. This number, they added, represented an increase of more than 40 per cent over the low point reached in the first three months of this year.

The VA credited the government secondary market for these loans, which has made more funds available for GI lending, as a major factor that reversed the long downward trend in G. I. Loans.

Methods for finding the longitude of a ship at sea were not devised until the 18th century.

START GARDEN COVER CROP DURING AUGUST

Cover crops, vitally needed in every home garden to give the soil organic matter and water-holding capacity, may be sown up to September 15 but do better if started in August.

The cheapest, surest, and most satisfactory cover crop is domestic or annual ryegrass. One pound seeds 1,000 square feet. Broadcast the seed before the last cultivation, and cover lightly by making the last cultivation shallow.

A good cover crop not only gives the soil a better physical condition, but if planted now will develop a vigorous growth that will stay green over the winter months. Ryegrass makes most of its growth in late fall and early spring when the garden is not in use. Ryegrass fills the soil with fibrous roots which are the best form of organic matter and equivalent to a coating of manure when organic matter alone is considered.

Seeding between rows of vegetables will not interfere with their growth or maturity. A good cover of ryegrass will prevent winter washing of the soil, conserve soluble plant food and the garden will look better during the idle months if covered with a green blanket.

SHOW CATTLE NEED CAREFUL GROOMING

Showy dairy cattle at the fall fairs can be profitable in different ways, provided these animals have had careful grooming, good management and the right handling. It is a form of advertising and can be good or bad. The cattle must be properly grown and of good size for their age. Barn feed them for some time prior to the show to accustom them to conditions at the fair. If they go off feed they show at a disadvantage.

Blanket all animals with long hair for a month or six weeks before show time. Use a stiff brush and hand massage daily to rid the coat of excessive hair and give it gloss. Wash out stains with soap and water, but rinse well, and do not wash too often.

Two or three days before showing, clip the tail above the switch, and also clip about the head, ears and neck. Clip the neck with the hair to avoid clipper marks.

Teach them not only to lead, but also to pose. Training takes time, patience and practice.

No Fish To Be In Philadelphia Bowl

PHILADELPHIA. — (INS) — There will be no fishes in the huge "gold fish bowl" which is expected to be completed in Philadelphia by 1950.

Instead, 600 children will make it their home for reading, writing and arithmetic.

Actually, the "bowl" will be a school with walls composed almost entirely out of glass.

Woman Legislator In Mercer County Seeking Divorce

MERCER, Pa., Aug. 9.—(INS)—Ralph W. Dye hoped today to persuade his wife, Jeannette, 48-year-old Mercer county representative to the General Assembly, to drop her divorce suit.

Mrs. Dye, now serving her third two-year term in the assembly, charged her 52-year-old husband, a vice president of the Reznor Manufacturing Company in Mercer, with "indignities" in a suit filed by her lawyer yesterday.

The Dyes were married in 1928 and have one child, Norma Jean, 13. The girl has been staying with her father, while Mrs. Dye is visiting with a sister in nearby Grove City.

Makes Charge Against Persons In U. N. Employ

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Sen. McCarran (D) Nev., charged on Monday that the United Nations is employing persons who have "come directly from fields of subversive activity in the United States."

In a speech on the Senate floor, McCarran named two individuals as "typical examples."

Ludwig Rajchman, executive director of the U. N. international emergency fund.

Norman Corwin, connected with the radio division of the U. N. Department of Information.

McCarran, chairman of a judicial subcommittee investigating subversive aliens, spoke in reply to criticism of the committee's activities.

Protest Made
Acting UN Secretary General Byron Price protested against the group's action in releasing testimony from a person identified only as "witness number eight."

The testimony said the UN was "terrorized" by communists and that UN Secretary General Lie favored their employment.

In response, Secretary of State Acheson said in a letter to Price that the United States government was "confident that no such situation would be tolerated."

McCarran said:

"I would suggest that before any official of this government or of an international organization gives himself to irresponsible utterances attacking the investigation, he ask the Secretary of State to see the files on the list of 150 names which I submitted to him."

Members of the picnic committee of the Jewish War Veterans met Monday evening in the Cosmo club, and final plans were made for the fourth annual picnic of the veterans to be held at El Rio beach, Sunday, August 14.

Chairman Ted Marlin reported that an excellent program has been arranged and that all who plan to attend will have a very good time. He thanked the committee for their cooperation. Entertainment for the kiddies is also being arranged, at this all-day affair.

Prison Escape Plan Is Failure

CHARLESTON, Mass., Aug. 9. (INS)—Two long-term convicts at the Charleston state prison conceived a unique escape ruse.

They had themselves wrapped in brown paper, tied up with rope, and placed into a truck leaving the prison grounds with a shipment of license plates. It almost worked. But, as the truck left the prison yard yesterday, the driver looked back. He saw the head of John J. Kerrigan, 33, serving 17 to 22 years for robbery, poke through the paper package. Kerrigan and his companion, George E. Hayes, 32, serving 13 to 18 years for robbery, are in solitary confinement today.

Music Aids Patient During Operation

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 9.—(INS)—An ex-GI who had his appendix removed to music was reported in good condition today at Cold Springs Road Veterans Administration hospital.

When physicians decided on local anesthesia, Wiley McCannan, 24, the patient, called for ear phones and a record player.

McCannan, who served with the Eighth Airborne Division in the South Pacific during World War II, listened to Brahms while the operation was in progress.

Hospital authorities said that musical therapy was "relaxing to the patient."

Senator To Urge Arms Bill Delay

Wants Action Held Up Until Gen. MacArthur Is Brought Home To Testify

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Sen. Knowland (R) Calif., indicated today he will urge that the senate delay action on the $1,450,000 "arms-for-friends" bill until Gen. Douglas MacArthur is brought home to testify.

Knowland implied he will demand that Defense Secretary Johnson order MacArthur home from Tokyo to testify on far eastern phases of the arms proposal.

The senator hinted that he might set up a road block against action on arms legislation unless this is done.

Meanwhile, the army said that Johnson is "studying" Knowland's demand for MacArthur's return.

In Tokyo, sources close to MacArthur reported that he is "unenthusiastic" about a trip to Washington to testify on the arms program and that nothing short of a direct request from his superiors will bring him back to America at this time.

These sources pointed out that MacArthur declared last year that "a free, independent and peaceful China is of profound importance to the peace of the world and the position of the United States."

Knowland said that the course he would pursue on MacArthur soon "will become apparent."

Fourth Round Pay Increase Rejected

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Some 100,000 Westinghouse Electric Corporation employees were told today that a fourth-round wage increase would not be granted despite any possible concessions by the steel or auto industries.

The corporation's position on the matter was discussed by W. O. Lippman, vice president in charge of plant labor relations.

In a letter to employees, he states, "whatever may be done in other industries... will not change problems and circumstances... management must continue to hold to its conclusion that a fourth-round increase should not be paid."

The Reading girl recovered from a similar ailment 11 years ago and doctors told her that some day her blood might save the life of another victim.

State Sanitary Water Board Makes Progress On Clarion

Maximum Effort To Clean Up
Clarion River Is Shown
By Survey

HARRISBURG, Aug. 9.—(INS)—An independent investigation of pollution conditions along the Clarion river showed that a maximum effort is being made by the state sanitary water board in its campaign to clean up the stream. Board Chairman Norris W. Vaux, state health secretary, emphasized that "recommendations made in the report . . . are at little or no variance with the requirements for the cleanup of that waterway as contained in orders and permits which have been issued by the board."

The survey was conducted by Camp, Dresser and McKee, a Boston engineering firm.

"In a comparison of the recommendations of the engineering concern with requirements previously established by the board, the latter would bring abatement of pollution of the river to a somewhat higher degree since permits issued to municipalities along the waterway require complete treatment of their sewage," Vaux said.

"The engineering firm suggests that primary treatment with chlorination at some points will be sufficient to obtain the necessary results."

All But Two Satisfactory

All but two industrial waste treatment systems constructed under board orders were found to be satisfactory, Vaux reported.

Improvements were recommended at one tannery and at the huge paper mill of the New York and Pennsylvania Co. at Johnsonburg.

Permits approving plans for sewage treatment works have been issued by the board to all municipalities bordering the stream and its tributaries but construction orders have been held in abeyance pending elimination of the major pollution source.

The greatest source of pollution, the board said, is from the paper mill which uses approximately 20,000,000 gallons of water daily in its manufacturing process.

Upon orders of the board, the company now is engaged in a pollution abatement program reportedly costing $1,500,000.

There is record in the Smithsonian Institute of a rattlesnake captured in California in 1926, that measured seven feet five inches in length, exclusive of the rattle. It had a circumference of 15 inches at its thickest and weighed 24 pounds.

Eastern Candidate To Be Named As State Legion Head

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 9.—(INS)—An eastern candidate seemed assured of election as state commander of the American Legion today on the eve of the War Veterans' annual convention in Pittsburgh.

Three names mentioned most frequently by earlier birds to the Legion's annual talk included Herbert Walker of Langhorne, ninth district commander, Richard White of Philadelphia, past eastern commander, and Walter Alessandrini of Philadelphia, president national vice commander.

One of the three will be elected Saturday to succeed Department Commander Lawrence Trainor of Duquesne.

Four candidates who will vie for the post of grand chief de train of the 49 and 8 Society include Boyd C. Harold, Latrobe; A. P. Sundry, Blairsville; Charles A. Madden, Pittsburgh; and Emil Palombo, Pittsburgh.

Only one candidate, it is believed, will run for the society's highest post—Grand Chief De Gare—to succeed Harry T. Kenyon of Hazelton. He is James S. Munger, present Grand Chief De Train, of Northampton county.

Some 6,500 Legionnaires will assemble in Pittsburgh tomorrow and remain in session until Monday.

Miner Is Killed In Roof Cave-In

NEW KENSINGTON, Pa., Aug. 9.—(INS)—One miner was killed yesterday and three others injured in a roof cave-in at the nearby Har-marville mine of the Consumers Mining Company.

Investigators claim two mine motors crashed into a string of empty cars and weakened mine timbers which dislodged tons of slate and rock from the roof.

A crew of 600, however, escaped harm.

The dead man was identified as Har. Lee Roberts, 35, of nearby Saxonsburg. The injured men were reported in fair condition at Citizens General hospital in New Kensington.

Betty Mae Boyer Receives Masters

Miss Betty Mae Boyer, of Beaver, received her Master's Degree in Education from Duquesne University, at the outdoor commencement exercises held on the University campus, Friday morning, August 5. Degrees were conferred by the Very Rev. Francis P. Smith, C. S. Sp., president of the college.

Miss Boyer is a graduate of Geneva's music school and the New England Conservatory of Music, Boston, also of the Duquesne University course in public school music. She studied music for two summers in the graduate school of the University of Wisconsin, and one summer in West Chester State College.

Residing in Beaver, she was for a number of years a music teacher in the Wampum schools. She conducted the band in public performances, and was director of choral music also. At the present time she is director of music in the Aliquippa schools.

Seeks Rehearsal For His Hanging

LONDON, Aug. 9.—(INS)—John George Haigh, England's "vampire" murderer, has reportedly asked for a dress rehearsal of his hanging tomorrow morning.

The confessed murderer of nine persons is said to have told visitors "my weight is deceptive and I'm a very springy tread. I would not like any hitch."

When the warden of Wandsworth jail dryly assured him that a hitch would be most unlikely, Haigh reportedly said:

"I still think there ought to be a tryout."

More Temblors Strike Ecuador

(BULLETIN) QUITO, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Three more temblors were reported today to have been felt late last night in the earthquake-devastated area of Central Ecuador, where an estimated 4,000 to 7,000 persons are believed dead.

The observatory at Quito said the seismic movements, one of which was said to be strong, occurred some time after 10 p.m. (EDT). It could not give the exact time of the temblors.

The observatory placed the epicenter of the tremors 124 miles south of Quito in the area stricken last Friday.

U.N. Trusteeship Urged For Former Italian Colonies

Secretary General Of U.N. Urges Action On Great Powers Today

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Aug. 9.—(INS)—Secretary General Trygve Lie urged the great powers today to place the former Italian colonies under United Nations trusteeship.

The secretary general in his annual report to the General Assembly, said the "best solution" would be appointment of a U. N. administrator responsible solely to the trusteeship council.

In sizing up the world situation, Lie found cause for optimism. He depicted the year ending June 30 as "a whole year of progress towards a more peaceful world." He concluded that despite a running series of alarms and crises, the "fear of war has decreased."

But he warned the world that any attempt to compel a "great power" by force of arms to comply with decisions of the Security Council would start a World War III.

The statement significantly came in the wake of the U. S. "white paper on China, in which Secretary of State Dean Acheson indicated that the western powers might invoke U. N. action in the event of Soviet aggression in Asia."

Two More State Projects Given Formal Sanction

HARRISBURG, Aug. 9.—(INS)—The State Highway and Bridge Authority today approved two more projects earmarked for construction under a proposed $40,000,000 bond issue.

The agency approved a four-lane divided concrete highway on traffic routes 20 and 36 in Erie county between Springfield and Girard and sanctioned building the superstructure and approaches on the Belle Vernon bridge on traffic route 31 spanning the Monongahela river between Washington and Westmoreland counties.

Costs were not estimated by the authority.

Experts Meet In New York City On Polio Situation

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Leading medical and lay experts on infantile paralysis began an intensive series of meetings in New York City today to devise immediate steps to meet the growing polio menace.

Federal authorities from the U.S.

Children's Bureau and officials of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will confer today and tomorrow at Foundation headquarters.

Heading the panel of experts is Dr. Hart Van Riper, the Foundation's medical director. A spokesman said:

"This is a preliminary conference. We wish, for one thing, to ease the mind of the public. But primarily we will discuss a program for stepping into the polio picture quickly if a real need develops."

The conference will not be open.

and the reason given is that it is primarily a "technical" meeting.

As the Health Department revised its description of New York's polio epidemic from "mild" to "moderate" the city wide toll of cases since January 1 rose to 734.

A record 68 new cases were reported in the past 24 hours, with two new deaths, raising the fatalities to 32.

The 734 figure surpassed the total of 692 cases reported in New York City in all of 1948, and brought the case rate above 8 per 100,000 population. Fifty one new cases had been reported yesterday.

All-Time High Of 25,958 Members In 4-H Clubs In State

Announcement Made Today During Annual Meeting Of Organization

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Aug. 9.—(INS)—Four-H club membership has reached an all time high of 25,958 in Pennsylvania, it was announced today at State College during the 25th annual meeting of the organization.

J. M. Fry, director of extension services for Pennsylvania State college which sponsors the meeting said 1949 marked the first year 4-H clubs were organized in each of the state's 67 counties.

He told the 1100 4-H delegates from all parts of the state they represent the greatest out-of-school farm youth group engaged in training in agriculture and homemaking.

Total enrollment for the state compares with 24,200 for 1948 and represents a gain of 1758, or 7.3 per cent. The 4-H program is conducted by the extension service for rural boys and girls between 10 and 21 years of age. County agricultural agents and home economics extension representatives are in direct charge. Assisting in the work are local leaders, and members of the 4-H staff of the college and other extension specialists.

Fry revealed also this is the fifth consecutive year in which 4-H enrollment in the state has shown an increase over the preceding year.

As farm youths become better acquainted with what 4-H offers, "interest among them—and enrollment—are bound to increase," he declared.

Enrollment increases in 4-H are significant, he stated, "because more farm boys and girls are improving their skills in agriculture and homemaking; they are getting greater satisfactions out of farm life, and are developing into community leaders and good citizens."

HEAT BEATS BURGLARS

BELLEVEILLE, Ill.—The heat wave proved too much for two enterprising burglars. A tavern owner, Martin H. Fisher, said the pair dragged an 80-pound safe out to the sidewalk. At that point, they apparently yielded to the weather, for the safe, containing $300, was unopened.

More than 150 pounds of ambergris have been taken from a single sperm whale.

Dixie Walker Has Had Long Career In Major League Ball

By JOHN GOLIGHTLY
(International News Service Sports Writer)

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 9.—Dixie Walker won't say yes or no about his plans to retire after this season.

He laughs the whole thing off and admits he's been around a long, long time.

The "old pro" spends many of the afternoon in the shade of the Pirates dugout with a pinch-hit appearance or, occasionally he'll play a complete game to spell a slumping or injured teammate.

Earns Salary

He's been earning his salary, which is considerable, up there in the pinch. Dixie's 39 now, a veteran of 19 years in the majors, yet his keen grey eyes seldom are fooled. He's still a mighty tough lefty to be pitching to in the clutch.

He is a batting stylist who has about the best form in the league. The old pro, who is just plain "Fred" when his wife, Estelle, is calling, has come a long way since he entered organized baseball in 1928 with the Albany, Ga., club in the Southeastern league.

Although Dixie dropped to the minors twice for brief periods during his career, his paychecks in the big time always have been ample. He's about the second-highest paid player on the Buc squad (Kiner's first), and will leave active play very well off.

Own Good Business

With brother Harry (The Hat), the Cubs' outfielder, he owns a liquor store in New York and a hardware store in Birmingham, Ala. Both would be independently wealthy if neither ever touched a baseball again.

Not bad at all for a guy who never went to high school and was a mill hand in his very early teens. He's proud of that, too.

In addition to being the father of four children, a successful businessman and a still potent hitter, Dixie is the National League players' representative to the executive council of baseball.

He gets awfully wrapped up in discussions on pensions for players and waiver rules or almost anything connected with the legal end of baseball. But he loves to hit and any mention of batting will get him on real baseball talk.

Took Ruth's Place

"I played my first big league game in Griffith Stadium back in 1931," Dixie related. "And what do you think: I took Babe Ruth's place."

"That was the time Babe ate all those hot dogs and got sick. The Yanks put Dusty Cooke in, then he got hurt, so they called me up from Toledo where I was playing for Casey Stengel."

Dixie chuckled, shook his head reflectively and said:

"That really was a long time ago. I got two doubles off Fred Marberry, the Washington pitcher, but fanned on three high ones and left a runner stranded my last time up."

"We had Lou Gehrig, Tony Lazzeri, Frank Crosetti and Ben Chapman in our infield. Myril Hoag and Earl Coombs were the other outfielders and Bill Dickey, of course, was catching."

Good Hitter

The old pro has had some big years since last season. For instance, his 316 average for 129 games topped all Pittsburgh batters. Over the years his 357 mark with Brooklyn in 1944 was the best.

But anytime now you can look for the tall southerner to call it a career. Maybe he'll take that job—offered by the players—to be permanent representative to the executive council at a handsome salary.

Or he may decide to spend all his time supervising the two stores.

May Accept Arms Cut Proposal

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Defense Secretary Johnson indicated today he would accept a proposal by Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., for a 50 per cent cut in the first year's cash outlay for the $1,450,000,000 arms-aid program.

At the same time, Johnson said he would consult with President Truman before taking any action if Congress demanded that Gen. Douglas MacArthur be ordered home to testify on the arms legislation.

Sen. Knowland (R) Calif., hinted earlier that he would accept to delay action on the arms bill until MacArthur is brought back to the United States to testify on Far East phases of the measure.

Johnson testified that U. S. officials have highly secret information regarding the impact on Russia's economy created by the cost of maintaining her "tremendous" standing army. He said he could divulge this information only in closed session.

Bi-Partisan Plan To Save China Is Before Congress

Administration However Has No Present Plan To Block Chinese Communists

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—A bi-partisan plan to save Nationalist China is before the house today although the administration has no present program to block further advances by the Chinese communists.

Rep. Walter (D) Pa., and Lodge (R) Conn. are offering a measure to provide 200 million dollars worth of military equipment to the Nationalists.

Sen. Knowland (R) Calif., and 11 other senators, introduced similar legislation last week. The senate measure proposes a 175 million dollar limit on China aid.

The move by Walter and Lodge follows severe criticism of the state department's white paper on China by some legislators on grounds that it represents a defeatist spirit.

Rep. Judd (R) Minn., a leading proponent of China aid, declared that the Walter-Lodge measure is "an effort to work out a bi-partisan policy to aid non-communist China."

He predicted that most Republicans on the house foreign affairs committee, of which he is a member, will vote for it.

The bill includes a proposal to send a 500-man military mission to China to supervise distribution of the arms to Chinese forces.

Says No Outside Interests Figured In B-36 Program

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Former Assistant Secretary of War Lovett told Congress today that no outside interests influenced the army's original arrangements for purchasing the giant B-36 bomber.

Lovett appeared before the House Armed Services Committee as the first witness in its long-awaited investigation of the six-engine plane and the role of strategic air power.

A mysterious anonymous letter was introduced into the hearings shortly before Lovett took the stand.

Lovett told the committee that no outside interests influenced the army in making its original arrangements in 1941 with the Consolidated Aircraft Company for two experimental long-range bombers, then designated B-36.

Lovett said all the procurement work was handled in the army and army air corps in a normal fashion. He said his only personal contact with Consolidated at that time was through the chief owner of the company, Reubin Fleet, and concerned efforts to have Consolidated increase production of B-24's.

Given Four Months Said, 'Make It Six'

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—(INS)—Federal Judge Porter rapped his get an attorney pronounced "four months in jail, but the prisoner, Lawrence Otis Harding, 41, pleaded: "Please make it six, your honor."

The judge was astonished. But Harding, arrested in the New York Bowery for illegally wearing a naval uniform, explained: "Please, judge, if you give me only four months, I'll just get these clothes back when I get out and it'll be cold then. If you give me six, they'll give me a new suit and transportation home."
